

LYNDON'S STORY

NAME: LYNDON

AGE: 9

ILLNESS: NERVOUS SYSTEM DISORDER

PRESCRIPTION:

Meet my favourite mouse

Born three months early, Lyndon had to spend seven of his early months in hospital. When he was just 18 months old, Lyndon was diagnosed with a nervous system disorder, changing his parents Adina and William's lives forever. "Having a child with a long-term illness has been life changing. Our world revolves around Lyndon, every decision we make has his needs first and foremost," says Adina.

When Lyndon was seven years old, he found out the amazing news that he would be getting his wish. Lyndon was going to Florida to meet his favourite mouse! "We traveled to Florida, which was an absolute dream come true. Lyndon was beside himself every time he met a mouse in the park," says Adina. Having time as a family in Florida was liberating. They spent time away from the appointments and the rush and soaked up every minute together.

Today, Lyndon is a thriving nine-year-old who loves going to school every day, learning with his classmates, playing outside, and walking with aid of his walker. The family still talks about the power of Lyndon's wish. "We became closer as a family and made the most amazing memories. Lyndon's siblings still talk about their favourite roller coaster rides to this day," added Adina.
